Deb,

Its nothing personal. Its just I'm very stressed and burnt out. Everyone sees what's going on in the office and when someone asks me I can't lie. I'm very sorry if I hurt your feelings, but I had to do what was right. We asked u for help. And still not sure why you couldn't give the assistance. Will you be in tomorrow? If so, we can speak about it, if you like. Sent from my Verizon Wireless BlackBerry

Subject: Follow up to last week's meeting

Debby – During last week's meeting, Thursday the 6th, I indicated to you that there were complaints surrounding your agreement to see students. At that time I reiterated our prior understanding / agreement, confirmed via your acceptance of the 10-22 minutes, that you would see students.

Specifically: "Matt indicated to Debby that she only need to work with student financial services if Vin (or an SFA staff member) requests help – otherwise Debby should feel free to go about her compliance activities.

I indicated to you during the above meeting that your failure/resistance to meet with students was not acceptable and that I would provide you with details surrounding this issue.

Each of the below 4 complaints have been provided by Antonia. The dates and times for each are below:

- Friday November 9th – Antonia requested you to see a student. You indicated to her that you were busy.
- Tuesday November 13th – Antonia requested you to see a student as she needed to use the bathroom. When she came back the student was sitting at her desk. You indicated that you were busy.
- Friday November 16th – Antonia requested you to see a student. Antonia indicated that there were 4 students in the office. She requested you to take a student. You indicated that your system was not working so you were not in a position to take a student. Antonia requested to see your computer and indicated that your computer was working and that you were already in campus vue. At that point you took the student but indicated that "I'm sorry I usually don't see students"

This morning I was provided with an added instance:

- Friday December 7th – At 12pm Antonia was on the phone with Fame – a student came in for a payment plan. She requested you to take the student. Although you were not on a Webinar you indicated that you had one and could not take the student. Antonia took the student. You left at 1:30 – during that 90 minutes (from 12 – 1:30) you did not attend a webinar.

My charge to you continues to be that:

- Our most urgent priority is seeing students
- Compliance is to occur only after the students are taken care of
- If your compliance activities are falling behind you need to alert me so that we can be sure that this is handled sufficiently.

Considering that our number one priority is counseling I cannot rationalize the above response of being busy (ie you are working on something which is more important). We need to speak. If the above is not true I need to understand that.
